"ONCE UPON A TIME...
A LONG, LONG, LONG TIME AGO...

By Katherine Anthony

...so long ago that the people of the land and the animals could talk to each other...

So begins the story told at the nightly campfires this summer at Camp Mak-A-Dream. Under millions of stars, even the shyest of campers will add to the story as the fire crackles and the coyote howls its haunting night call.

The 1996 camping season promises fun with new activities and ideas. The Art Barn invites campers to create projects such as ceramic bird baths, dyed materials for weaving, musical instruments and sun-dyed leaf T-shirts.

A hay ride will transport campers to the mountain camp-site where horses will be waiting-ready for riders. Campers will also have the opportunity, led by Native American artists, to paint a tipi with camp designs and to create beaded jewelry while sitting in the meadow.

At nightfall, there will be story-telling as campers pass an eagle feather and gather around the fire before going to sleep under the stars.

This year we are expanding the carnival and casino night to include costumed campers can-can dancers and wild cowboy crowds. Rodeos, cowboy poetry and chuck-wagon dinners will also be part of each camper's experience in Gold Creek, Montana.

Harps, guitars, flutes, harmonicas, didgeridoos, pianos, country-western bands and even a small chamber orchestra will be part of the musical entertainment, while other traditional Camp activities include archery, water sports, canoeing, fly fishing, mining for Montana sapphires, ropes course drills, games, shearing sheep and shoeing horses.

So pack your bags... the camp cook is flipping flap-jacks, the camp porcupine is up in his tree, Betty the Buffalo is looking for her friends, the fish are jumping and the horses are restless to ride with you this summer at Camp Mak-A-Dream.

YOUNG ADULT CONFERENCE

The first of many Young Adult Conferences is set for this summer at Camp Mak-A-Dream. We are blending dialogue with adventure. Adventure experiences may include scuba diving and snorkeling, out-bound horse pack trips and rafting on Montana rivers. Dialogue begins at daybreak watching the sun rise over the mountains and continues into the afternoon at the art tables, then ends with legend-making stories told around the campfire under a full moon.

The possibilities are endless. Massages while listening to harp music, soaking in the sun near the pool and hot tub, line-dancing, working as a team getting through the ropes course—all of this and more will take place at the first annual Young Adults Conference this season. Participants will receive a packet with a conference schedule of events after all applications have been received at the Camp office.

For more information, please contact the Camp office at (406) 549-5987 or (800)484-5890, ext. 2267.

WE'RE LOOKING FORWARD TO FALL TOO!

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It does take a community to raise a child...and the community of the Children's Oncology Camp Foundation, Camp Mak-A-Dream, grows every day. Our community includes individuals, organizations, businesses and foundations that join us in creating a community of caring for children with cancer.

I hope you can see yourself in some of the following examples. Maybe you were involved in an activity, or you can envision another way you can provide support for Camp. If so, we are anxious to talk with you! Every gift of time, talent and resources adds to our community of caring. If you have not joined this community, please consider doing so. And for all of you who have, THANK YOU!

• Shirley Smuin, a Missoula resident, shared information about Camp Mak-A-Dream with her son, Steve, Headmaster of the Nueva Middle School in California, who in turn shared information with his students. The result can be seen on page seven.

• Kappa Mu Gamma Sorority at the University of Montana gave a day of cleaning to prepare for the Young Adults with Cancer Conference.

• Target Range School collected one million pop can tabs and shared the proceeds with Camp Mak-A-Dream.

• Woodcarvers, under the direction of their president, Barb Alonzo, are creating a carved mural for the lodge and the Carousel Pony Keepers are carving an original pony for Camp Mak-A-Dream.

• Jennifer Benton, manager at Three Dog Down, is organizing activities at Southgate Mall for the upcoming Dinamation exhibit, as well as coordinating this newsletter.

• Ashley and Karen Ekengren made door wreaths to welcome campers to their cabins.

• Jennifer Jasek contributed writing expertise for this newsletter.

• The Washington Corporation Foundation provided tremendous support through a five year financial commitment.

• The Montana Department of Health & Human Services and PEERS groups have rented the Camp facility which not only provides them with a terrific conference site, but the proceeds also provide needed revenue to support Camp activities for children with cancer.

• Youth from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints gave a day of landscaping skills (also known as digging and raking) to plant hundreds of seedlings.

• St. Francis Xavier Catholic School raised a mile of pennies for Camp Mak-A-Dream.

This is just a small sampling of the tremendous variety of people and activities involved daily in our community of caring for children with cancer. Together, we are making a difference in the lives of children!

Sally Francis Kehayes, President
Board of Directors, Children's Oncology Camp Foundation

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR’S REPORT

We're growing! The great news is that Camp is expanding its program to serve more than 200 children this summer, as well as planning new programs for the fall session. We are receiving camper applications every day. In addition, the support from volunteers donating a week or more of time to Camp this summer is overwhelming. The staff and board members are excited about this summer. We have heard so many motivating and inspirational stories of children and young adults anxiously awaiting their visit to Camp Mak-A-Dream. I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Board and staff for their strength and dedication.

In the past year our organization has grown tremendously as evidenced by the growth of the mailing list by over 5,000 names. As a result of this growth, the Foundation's offices have just relocated to a larger space. The new offices will provide the room needed to continue our services to children and adults with cancer.

As always, it is the campers who keep our fires burning. It is the volunteers who make the dream possible and the staff who help accomplish that mission. What a great team!

Tim Furey, Executive Director
Children's Oncology Camp Foundation

DINOSAURS INVADE MISSOULA, MONTANA

By Jennifer Benton

This summer, Montanans are in for a special surprise...dinosaurs! On August 2, Southgate Mall in Missoula, Montana welcomes DinoDiscovery- An Educational Exhibit. The program consists of an exhibit, with life-size robotically animated dinosaurs up to 75 feet long, as well as several dinosaur-related activities. Also on display will be a large dinosaur cast constructed from bones excavated throughout the state of Montana by The Museum of the Rockies in Bozeman, Montana.

Dinamation International Corporation created this exhibit which is also supported by The State of Montana. Guided tours will be given, under direction of The Museum of the Rockies, by paleontologists from students at the University of Montana and Montana State University. The Museum has received national and international recognition for its research and educational programs in dinosaur paleontology.

Many activities are scheduled for children and adults of all ages including "Build a Baby," where visitors can learn the names of bones and reconstruct a dinosaur skeleton. Kids are also encouraged to record their experiences in a "Passport Through Time" booklet available at the exhibit. As if that's not enough, children will be invited to a fun-filled sleep-over sponsored by Southgate Mall called DinoNight, with proceeds going to Camp Mak-A-Dream. The evening includes a movie, a bed-time snack and sleeping under a canopy of dinosaurs; then campers will be treated to a continental breakfast the next morning. Each child participating in DinoNight will receive a T-shirt designed by a Camp Mak-A-Dream participant. Camp Mak-A-Dream will also have a booth at Southgate Mall during DinoDiscovery selling merchandise to raise money for children and young adults with cancer.

The public grand opening of DinoDiscovery is set for August 2 and will run until September 15, 1996. Call the Camp office to volunteer!

DON'T MISS THE DINOS AT SOUTHGATE MALL!
AUGUST 2 - SEPTEMBER 15

On Saturday, April 20, 1996 Harry and Sylvia Granader were honored by the Rooper School of Bloomfield Hills, Michigan for co-founding the Ronald McDonald House as well as for founding Camp Mak-A-Dream in Gold Creek, Montana. They were awarded the prestigious Golden Apple Award which was established by the Rooper School in 1991 as a tribute to individuals who have made tremendous social contributions.

In his speech, Harry said it is their dream to eventually have Camp Mak-A-Dream open year round to children and young adults with cancer, but added there is still much to do. Harry and Sylvia have made it their mission to help those less fortunate than themselves. As he so eloquently stated, "We make a living by what we earn, but we make a life by what we do for others."

Past recipients of the Golden Apple Award include Civil Rights Leader, Rosa Parks and Author/Poet, Maya Angelou. This year's gala included feature speaker Apollo 13 Commander, Captain James Lovell and was held at the International Center at the Athenaeum in Detroit, Michigan.

A SPECIAL THANKS TO KEN REESMAN

Last November, the first annual Bragg-Knutson-Lewis Memorial Award was presented by D.A. Davidson & Co. The award was given to the individual who most exemplified caring and community service over the last year. The 1995 winner was Ken Reesman; he was unanimously selected for his involvement with and support of Camp Mak-A-Dream, and his contributions to individuals with cancer. Ken, who is a member of the Board of Directors of the Children's Oncology Camp Foundation, graciously donated his accompanying cash award directly to Camp Mak-A-Dream making it possible for another child with cancer to attend Camp this year! Congratulations, and thank you, Ken!

DREAMS ON THE NET

Camp Mak-A-Dream is now on the Internet. Our address is: http://www.campdream.org/
The last thirty years of research, education and improvements in treatment have provided significant advances in saving the lives of children with cancer. So dramatic are these improvements that by the year 2000 it is estimated that one in every 900 persons between 15 and 45 will be a survivor of childhood cancer. The concept of a "truly cured" child is a goal for all children. In order to attain this goal, challenges and opportunities to enhance psychosocial outcomes become numerous. Camp Mak-A-Dream is excited about being a part of that challenge.

For a child or young adult with cancer or other rare life-threatening illnesses, the opportunities for adventure, fun, spending time with peers, and just forgetting about the illness are limited. These young people are often unable to go to camps or take part in recreational opportunities. They often find it difficult to be away from their families or care providers during this time. Thus, they are unable to form friendships or are unable to express their feelings openly.

Camp Mak-A-Dream exists to provide kids with cancer some good times to help them through some very hard times. Research has shown that children with cancer who have the opportunity participate in a supportive camp experience increase their resolve to comply and tolerate difficult treatment. Thirty years ago a child diagnosed with cancer had very little hope of survival. Today, many will win the fight, but it is not an easy battle. The treatment for cancer in children is long and hard and the side effects of radiation, surgery and chemotherapy can be life-threatening. Building relationships with peers who are at the same stage in treatment, or have survived cancer, is a very therapeutic experience. As a mother of a child who attended cancer camp said, "Camp helps children change their outlook on themselves and others. It is about learning from each other how to cope." Camp Mak-A-Dream is committed to giving those with cancer the chance to build good memories, anticipate future possibilities, and be encouraged by others, which makes getting through the hard times of treatment a little easier to handle.

"My daughter's doctor scheduled a post-surgery summer and I immediately said 'NO WAY!' Camp Mak-A-Dream every day since it ended has been walking with me, helping me believe there is a chance to return. It is what she holds in the darkest of times. And I am not going to let anyone take that away from me." — Lisa J.

"We are all soldiers in a war that will last forever. But we have courage and honor and intelligence, and we are proud to display it. We are campers and we are proud to be part of a team. I send a special thanks to the dreamers and the doers. Thank you!" — The 2000 Campers

STAFF PROFILE - DR. TIM CARTE
By Jennifer Jasek

As Medical Director of Camp Mak-A-Dream for nearly two years, Dr. Tim Carte has helped develop and coordinate a health care program that accommodates the numerous health care needs of the Camp Mak-A-Dream campers. As part of his volunteer position, he spends one week each summer at Camp and is on call for Camp the rest of the year. Dr. Carte talks to groups and individuals nationwide about Camp and our medical care. He is also involved in the recruitment of the volunteer medical staff for each camp session. Having grown up in Western Washington, he attended the University of Puget Sound and continued his education at the University of New Mexico Medical School in Albuquerque. He completed his internship at Virginia Mason Hospital in Seattle. Following military service in the Air Force, his pediatric residency was at the University of Colorado and the University of Washington. Dr. Carte has practiced medicine in Missoula for fourteen years and is now a pediatrician at the Western Montana Clinic. Dr. Carte lives on the west shore of Flathead Lake with his wife, Judy, their daughter, Jordan, and their three Labrador retrievers. Camp Mak-A-Dream is very fortunate to have Dr. Carte as our Medical Director.

Camp Mak-A-Dream is pleased to introduce Katherine Anthony as our new Camp Director. Formerly the Camp and Conference Director of Glacier Presbyterian Camp on Flathead Lake, Katherine brings creativity and expertise to this year's program. She intends to bring longevity to the camp by solidifying the programs that began last year, expanding camp and conference experiences throughout the year and providing training to both paid and volunteer staff. DREAMS OF PONIES
By Kelly Dodson

Members of the Pony Keepers of the Missoula Carousel announce with honor that Camp Mak-A-Dream is the recipient of the first Missoula Carousel pony donated to a non-profit organization.

For those of you not familiar with the Missoula Carousel, here is a brief history lesson. Before the depression, carousels were common. Children and adults alike were swept away to a fantasy world upon climbing onto the brightly lit musical ride. Unfortunately, the carousels were slowly dismantled and sold to private collectors. Wanting to bring back a replica of these whimsical works of art, The Missoula Carousel volunteers recreated a traditional, hand-carved, hand-painted carousel which opened to the public last summer.

Now that the custom ponies created for individuals and organizations are complete, the Pony Keepers want to carry on the legacy of the Carousel not only by maintaining the existing horses, but by building new horses for non-profit groups, such as Camp Mak-A-Dream, to use for fund-raising purposes.

Although the details of the Camp Mak-A-Dream pony donation have not been released, it’s sure to help raise money to ensure young children their summer of dreams.

Watch for our next newsletter which will have all the exciting details, a picture of the pony, information on our fundraising efforts and the date the pony will be christened.

GENEROSITY SPANS MANY MILES-NUEVA SCHOOL
By Jennifer Benton

Camp Mak-A-Dream recently received a generous donation from a class of seventh and eighth grade students from The Nueva Middle School in Hillsborough, California. The school first received an anonymous contribution of $1,000 with a note which stated the money must be donated to community service organizations; then the students went to work raising even more money on their own for a grand total of $2,000 going to Camp Mak-A-Dream. The students knew they wanted the money to go to a camp for ill children, and Headmaster of the middle school, Steve Smuin, has local ties to the Missoula, Montana area and mentioned Camp Mak-A-Dream to his students.

The students of Nueva School are committed to community service projects as evidenced by the more than 30 hours of community service they each complete before graduation. The school participates in at least three community service projects each year. This year, Camp Mak-A-Dream was one of the fortunate recipients. Thank you to all the students and teachers of The Nueva School for helping make dreams come true!

MELANIE NEDRUD NOMINATED FOR FIRST ANNUAL JC PENNEY GOLDEN RULE AWARD

Camp Mak-A-Dream would like to congratulate Melanie Nedrud, former President of the Board of Children’s Oncology Camp Foundation, for being nominated for the first annual Golden Rule Award sponsored by J.C.Penney. The award recognizes people who exemplify the spirit of volunteerism. President Clinton wrote a letter to each nominee which was presented on May 8, 1996 along with a certificate of recognition. Five volunteers received $250.00 for their organizations while three received a crystal trophy and $1,000.00 for their organizations. Congratulations to you, Melanie, on a job well done!

VOLUNTEER COORDINATOR-DIANNA RILEY

The Volunteer Coordinator position for Camp Mak-A-Dream has been filled by Dianna Riley. She is a long time Missoulion with extensive volunteer experience. Dianna will continue the work started by Judy Brodsky whose, "skill and enthusiasm I hope to build on," says Riley.

HOW CAN YOU VOLUNTEER!

Bulk mailings, computer work, office support, cleaning, yard work and special events are just a few of the positions needing additional volunteers. The Southgate Mall Dinamation exhibit, on display August 2 through September 15, will require many volunteer hours as well. If you are interested, it's not too early to give Dianna a call at (406)543-4855. She will be more than happy to hear from you!

WOMEN'S HEALTH RETREAT AT FLATHEAD LAKE RAISES
32 CAMPERSHIPS

Organized by Melanie Neadur and Sharon Snavely, with assistance from Judy Brodsky, M.J. Shute, Carol Seim, and Lin O'Hara, this first retreat was a resounding success! The Women's Health Retreat brought women from Montana, Idaho, Arizona, and Texas together at the Flathead Lake Lodge to rejuvenate their spirits and bodies, educate their minds, and support Camp Mak-A-Dream.

Thirty-two camperships were raised by this event and new friendships were forged as the women participated in a variety of activities including stress management workshops, horseback riding, hiking along the Swan River, and learning more about the mind-body health connection. As fond farewells were shared, the enthusiasm for Camp Mak-A-Dream and for the retreat was evident. Ideas were also shared for planning a 1997 retreat.

Special thanks to the retreat faculty who generously provided their time and expertise: Cintra Brown, Sherry Granader, Dr. John Harlan, M.D., Linda Hertzberg, Peg Hiller, Carol Meleen, Ph.D., Patty Withercombe, Dr. Tim Carre, M.D., and Dr. Sarah Lane.
